

Earth Air Water Fire

Earth Air Water Fire is a workshop that weaves through these four elements to examine what's in balance and what is out of balance in our lives. Where are the entanglements in our lives? Is it money, taking care of our physical bodies or values that no longer hold truth? Is there so much chatter and data flying about that there is no time to hear your own thoughts? Do you know what you feel? Or have these feelings/emotions been so numbed and stuffed that you can't feel them anymore? What has happened to intuition? We need a meaning and purpose in life to reach those ideals towards which we can aspire. Is there passion, creativity and inspiration in your life?

There is a place deep within each of us that seeks to understand and then to be understood; however, for this to have a reality in our lives we must first know ourselves. In this full day workshop you will explore through cognitive, intuitive and experiential exercises to examine what is in balance and what is out of balance in your life. What about solutions and roadmaps, so you can move forward in your life? When one begins to see the "elements" and how they each weave into your life, you can then begin to create and live your own destiny. Now that's cool!

Sharon Hoery and Omi Preheim invite you to join us for this cutting edge workshop Earth Air Water Fire. This workshop is a product of years of experience in education, business, psychology, astrology, numerology and metaphysical studies.
